

THE BAY LEAF

Summer 2006 - A Publication of The Waycross College Library, Vol. 5, No. 4

LIB QUAL+ SURVEY

Thank you for participating in our online Lib Qual+ Survey in March. All Waycross College students who submitted an email address were eligible to win prizes. The lucky grand prizewinner was Robert Clark. He won a fabulous IPod. Jamie Whittaker won a camera and Wilma Jean Brown won movie tickets. Our other prizewinner wished to remain anonymous.

Above, Lynn Kelly (left), Library Director, is shown presenting Robert Clark the iPod.

Wilma Jean Brown will soon be going to the movies!

STRANGE, BUT TRUE

In 1916, Coca Cola first appeared in its now famous contour bottle. The design brief stated that the bottle should be recognizable in the dark. In 1918, the world's first three-color traffic lights were installed in New York; they were manually operated. Did you know the first potato chips were served in 1853 at the Moon Lake House Hotel in the state of New York? It was all a mistake! Cornelius Vanderbilt had complained that his potatoes were too chunky. So in defiance, the chef sliced them thinly and fried them. Read more in The Book of Firsts compiled by Ian Harrison. SUMMERS IN GEORGIA ARE A TIME FOR GROWTH

If the summer season has you inspired to do a little gardening outside or even inside, here are a few gardener's delights for the novice as well as the expert. There are even books for those summer projects that we tend to put off during those long winter months.

Outdoor Project Step-By-Step	Gardening With Conifers
Herbalist's Garden	Practical Encyclopedia of Houseplants and Plant Care
Kitchen Garden	Visual Dictionary of Herbs
Herb Bible	American Horticultural Society Encyclopedia of Plants and Flowers
Foliage	Native Shrubs and Woody Vines of the Southeast

USES FOR BAY LEAVES

According to the Food and Healing's website, bay leaves are used in Antigua in teas with peppermint and chocolate to make one resistant to colds and flu. There is a possibility that it may help diabetics by breaking down sugar three times faster than insulin according to test tube studies. Coughs are said to be relieved by making a poultice and placing on the chest. Go to www.foodandhealing.com for other uses.
